MOVING THE BIRDS IN CENTRAL PARK. THEY ARE TO HAVE A NEW HOUSE-THE CUB

JAGUARS AND HYENAS. The late cackling and crowing at the Poultry Show in Madison Square Garden was as nothing to the noise created yesterday in the Central Park Menag rie. It had been determined to move the birds from the aviary. By far the larger number of these are of the parret tribe. The aviary is just to the north of the monkey house, and it was seen that it might collars. nonkey-house, and it was seen that it might collapse any day. So the Fark Commissioners have determined to build a new home for the feathered kind. The first act was to remove the birds, and a room was prepared for them in the armory, the room sacred to the m

There was little or no difficulty in putting the gallinules, toucans, magpies, quail and such like birds into the transfer boxes. It was another question when the parrots had to be moved. All of these birds are armed with most formidable beaks and claws that command respect. It was no easy thing to move them command respect. If was no casy think to move the course of the baxes, but the task was completed at last. Few of the men were bitten, for they seized the bards by the neck. The birds will be out of public view until the new bailding is completed.

The cub laguars are amusing. They are beautifully marked and are no bigger than a well-grown ca, but are armed with teeth and claws that would send the area.

largest and most hostile tomcat in search of the next county in case of a dispute. The Tribune's reporter obtained the first view of the three hyena cubs vester day. Almost black in color, the little wheips show in their faces their cownrily character, and they move about the cage in their true character—the parishs of the Indian plants.

THOSE CRAFTY YOUNG GOSTINGS.

Edward Goshing, alias L. Johnson, alias Edward F. Son Market Come yesterday. The warrant was 1-su d on complaint of G. F. Hill, of the Cosmop dian Publishing Company, who allege that on January 24 Affred Gosling and his brother Edward forged a check for $626 20 on the Nassan Bank.
